Re: Social Security Referral List

The following is a list of resources that may be of help to you. We do not know if any of the attorneys on this list will be able to take your case. You will have to ask them.

We do not have information about the fees the attorneys on this list charge. We do not have information about whether or not the attorneys on the list have malpractice insurance. You will have to ask them.

The State Bar of California recommends that before you meet with any attorneys you do some "comparison shopping." Call several lawyers and ask questions that might help you make your decision. Ask about the attorney's experience and when he or she last handled a similar case. Ask about fees. Ask about whether the attorney has malpractice insurance. Write down what the attorneys have to say. Take time to think it over. Then choose the attorney who seems right for you.

Additional information about how to select an attorney is available from the State Bar of California. You may reach the State Bar at the following locations:

State Bar of California
Website: www.Calbar.ca.gov

San Francisco Office
180 Howard Street
San Francisco, CA 94105
Phone: 415-538-2000

Los Angeles Office
1149 South Hill Street
Los Angeles, CA 90015
Phone: 213-765-1000

The State Bar is the agency that licenses attorneys in California. The State Bar does not provide referrals to attorneys. However, at the end of this list we have provided a list of local bar association lawyer referral services. Your local lawyer referral service may be able to help you find an attorney. Please note that Disability Rights California is not a lawyer referral service. We do not screen the attorneys that appear on this list. We do not recommend or endorse any of the attorneys on this list, nor do we guarantee that they are competent or qualified to handle any particular matter, including your case.
